🚒 Did you know that one person can restore sight to two people through transplantation, and countless others through research and education?

This November, during Eye Donation Month, we're joining @IowaLionsEyeBank to raise awareness about the gift of sight and the important role first responders like us play in making eye donation possible.

👁️ Eye donation isn't limited to people who pass away at the hospital. People who die at home or elsewhere in the community may also be eligible to donate. That's why timely referrals by agencies like ours are so important.

It Only Takes a Minute for us to make a referral, but the impact of eye donation can last a lifetime. Talk to your family and make sure they know your wishes to be a donor.

💙💚 Together, we can help ensure that every opportunity to give the gift of sight is considered.

🚒 Did you know that eye donation can happen even when someone passes away someplace other than a hospital?

A timely donation referral from our staff can help make the gift of sight possible.

💡 One eye donor can restore sight to TWO people and COUNTLESS OTHERS through research and education!

This #EyeDonationMonth, we're teaming up with @IowaLionsEyeBank to remind our fellow first responders:

It Only Takes a Minute to fulfill someone's wishes to donate.

🇺🇸 November is Eye Donation Month, and we're proud to join @IowaLionsEyeBank in raising awareness about the importance of eye donation, particularly when deaths occur outside of a hospital.

Those who pass away at home, in long-term care facilities or elsewhere in the community may still be eligible to become eye donors. By understanding and following established donation referral procedures, we can help ensure opportunities to donate aren't overlooked.

This year's Eye Donation Month theme, “It Only Takes a Minute,” reminds us that even a small action like making a referral can have a profound impact.
